

NEW GOVERNOR

In the presence of a large gathering of State officials and relatives and friends from Woodford county, Senator Charles M. Harriss, of Versailles, president pro tem of the Kentucky Senate, took the oath of office as Acting Governor of the Commonwealth of Kentucky Monday morning. The oath was administered by Henry Ware, clerk in the office of State Auditor Greene. Acting Governor Harriss will be at the helm of State affairs during the absence of Governor Black, who left Monday morning for French Lick Springs, accompanied by Mrs. Black.

After the oath of office was administered to Senator Harriss he was called upon for a speech. At the very outset the acting governor reiterated the statement that the pardon books will be closed during the absence of Governor Black.

"I hold that a temporary governor though not under the law restricted in the exercise of the executive power, is bound morally by restrictions which do not control a regular governor, and I consider that the pardon power is embraced by these restrictions, and should not be exercised by me unless to prevent a wrong to the Commonwealth and a grave injustice to those concerned," he said.

The acting governor said he anticipated but little trouble with applications which have as their sole recommendation the endorsement of politicians and men of influence. The difficulty, he said, would be with those who were accompanied by mothers, wives or little children whose hearts were full of anguish and whose eyes were full of tears.

MOTHER SEES SON DROWN

While sitting on the beach at Boonesboro, Sunday afternoon, watching a swimming party, she had chaperoned to the resort, Mrs. Edward Eyle, of near Lexington, saw her son, Joseph Eyle, swept under by a whirl pool below Lock 10, of the dam above the beach. The accident occurred at three o'clock in the afternoon, and hundreds of people saw the boy pulled down to his death.

Boats which rushed to the boy's assistance, reached the spot where he disappeared, several minutes too late to save him.

Eyle was considered an expert swimmer and it is believed by those who saw him go down, that the swirling waters below the falls of the dam, proved to be too strong for him.

The body of the unfortunate young man was recovered at 2 o'clock Monday afternoon, after a prolonged search.

Mrs. Eyle, the young man's mother was taken to her home near Lexington, and has since been in a serious condition from the shock of seeing her son drown.

CHARLES SMATHERS LANDS

Mr. and Mrs. William Smathers have been notified of the arrival in the States, of their son, Charles Smathers, who landed at Norfolk, several days ago.

PROF. HOPPER HONORED

Professor W. O. Hopper, of the Mt. Sterling City schools, has been selected instructor at the Rowan County Teacher's Institute to be held this month at Morehead.

DR. J. PIKE POWERS HERE

Dr. J. Pike Powers, of Knoxville, Tenn., for 12 years pastor of the Mt. Sterling Baptist Church, beginning with its organization in 1870, was here the past week with friends. Bro. Powers has been in Knoxville for the past 23 years as a preacher and business man and while he has been a success in a business way he found time to organize two churches that have grown in memberships to more than a thousand each, and one of them has enrolled more than 1800 in her Sunday school. For all these years Bro. Powers has been a very busy man and the sermon delivered by him at the Baptist church Sunday evening gave evidence of a continual intimacy with God's word.

Bro. Powers met with one continued ovation and the sermon delivered, a wonderful production of the old time Gospel was gladly received. With this visit there was one thing missing, the good wife who has been much, yea more than we could tell, in the literary and religious training of our citizenship, young and old. May the time soon come when this ex-pastor will return to our city bringing with him his wife who is held in highest esteem as a scholar, educator and Christian worker.

TRAFFIC LAWS ENFORCED

Mayor W. R. McKee has instructed the Chief-of-Police and his men to arrest every person violating any of the traffic regulations of the city, and during the past week, numbers of arrests have been made. Several drivers have been fined and a few have been dismissed. Chief Tipton says that he intends to enforce the laws, and all good citizens are expected to back him up. Several serious accidents have been narrowly averted by the carelessness of automobilists here, and their utter disregard for the traffic laws of our city. A marked improvement is noticed within the past week, and it is believed that in time there will be no further trouble along this line.

STREETS TO BE PAVED

At the last meeting of the city council a resolution was passed ordering the following streets paved in asphalt or other like substance: Samuels avenue, West High Street, to a point beyond Antwerp avenue, West Main St., to the City limits, East Locust street to Queen, and West Locust to Richmond Avenue and along Richmond avenue, north to Main street. Several building permits also were granted and much routine business was disposed of. City Clerk Harry B. Ringo, was absent and W. C. Hamilton acted in his stead.

INSTANTLY KILLED

Mr. Benjamin Scott, aged 65 years an uncle of Mrs. L. E. Griggs and Miss Lucy Smith was instantly killed in Winchester last week when his car collided with Co. N. Vermillion's car.

Mr. Scott's neck was broken and he died almost instantly. Mrs. Scott who was in the car with her husband escaped with several cuts on the face, none of which were serious. Mr. Scott is survived by his wife and one sister, Mrs. George Thompson, of Paris.

LOCAL POST TO BE ORGANIZED

A meeting of all returned soldiers, sailors and marines has been called for next Friday afternoon at the Court House, at which time a representative of the National organization of the American Legion will be present and assist in the organization of a local post of the Legion.

Notice to Subscribers

During the past week the Advocate has mailed out accounts to many of its subscribers who are in arrears, and it is the earnest desire of the management to retain all of its present readers, but the high cost of publishing a newspaper makes it imperative that all subscriptions must be paid in advance. It will be the aim of the Advocate to cover the local field as no other medium does and to give all of the news first-hand. Whether you have received a notice or not PLEASE look at the yellow label on your paper and if you have not paid for the ensuing year, kindly do so at once.

PHONE RATES REDUCED

Declaring that they misunderstood the question and voted contrary to their desires when they voted to permit the Burleson rates for telephone service to remain in effect four months, certain members of the city council prevailed upon Mayor McKee to call a special session which he did, Wednesday night, and a resolution was adopted rescinding its former order and going on record as favoring pre war telephone rates. The company, however, had already nailed out bills at the increased rate and Mayor McKee by proclamation, advised the Mt. Sterling subscribers to pay at the old rate and to decline to pay any additional sum. If the company persists in its demand for an increased rate, it is understood that legal steps will be taken to enforce the provisions of the company's franchise which has yet, nine years to run.

DIES IN MISSOURI

Friends in this city will be grieved to learn of the death of Mrs. Ruba Leonard Lyman, which occurred in Columbia, Mo., August 2, following an operation. Mrs. Lyman was a daughter of the late Rev. Joseph T. Lyman, a former resident of Mt. Sterling, and spent her girlhood in this city. She will be well remembered by many of the older people here.

Mrs. Lyman is survived by her husband, W. L. Lyman, who is also in very feeble health, and by one brother, C. A. Leonard, of Jackson, Ky.

TABB BASSETT RECEIVES DISCHARGE

A. Tabb Bassett, of this city, has been discharged from the army, where he has been in service in the Medical Corps. Mr. Bassett has for some months been stationed at the Henry Ford Hospital in Detroit, and after a visit to his parents here, will likely locate in New York.

CAPT. NELSON LANDS

Mr. and Mrs. E. Y. Nelson have been notified of the arrival at an American port, of their son, Capt. Robert L. Nelson, of the Marine Corps. Capt. Nelson hopes to be home shortly for a few days leave, but has announced his intention of remaining in the service.

ANDREW CARNEGIE DEAD

Andrew Carnegie, the world's greatest steel magnate and philanthropist, died at his summer home at Lenox, Mass., Monday morning after a brief illness of bronchial pneumonia. Carnegie was in many ways one of the greatest men of all times. He had given away over $350,000,000 and had probably done more in a financial way to aid his fellow-countrymen than any other living man. He is survived by his wife and one daughter, Mrs. Roswell Miller. Arrangements for the funeral and the disposition made of his vast estate have not as yet been made public. Mr. Carnegie made donations aiding the local Methodist, Christian and Presbyterian churches purchasing the pipe organs which are now in use in these churches.

ROASTING EARS COME HIGH

Chief of Police James C. Tipton on Friday placed under arrest Dave Wilson and Walter Lane, both colored, charged with stealing roasting ears from the farm of Clayton Howell. At the time of their arrest they had in their possession over 12 dozen ears. At their trial Saturday in county court they pleaded guilty and were given three months each by Judge Senff. There have been a good many complaints of roasting ears being stolen recently and the police are determined to break up this practice.

SCHOOL TO OPEN SEPT. 15

We are informed by Superintendent W. O. Hopper that the Mt. Sterling Graded and High school will open on Sept. 15th. This is a little later than usual but as there will be only a nine months' school this year, even with this late opening school will be dismissed in the Spring as early as usual. The short term was made necessary owing to lack of funds.

PANGBURN'S BIBLE FOUND

Mr. Charlie Pangburn last week received from Byron Hall, a local U. S. Marine, a bible which he found on the battleship Long Beach, with the name William Botts Pangburn written in young Pangburn's own hand writing, together with his address. The supposition is the bible was found on the battlefield by a comrade following young Pangburn's death, and that it was lost on the battleship while he was attempting to bring it home to his parents.

LOCAL HORSES WIN AT MUNCIE

OIL EXCHANGE TO OPEN

The Mt. Sterling Oil Exchange, which has been closed during the summer months, will re-open for business September first, and will be under its former management William French, operator, and Russell Cox, local manager.

No manufacturers of clothing, hats, shoes, or furnishings, will take orders for January delivery at 20 per cent increase over present prices for next spring. One half the woolen mills will not seek domestic business. This we know. Our advice is, to buy of the Walsh Co., today and save the advance in price, that's sure to come.

NEW RESTAURANT

E. J. Wells, of West Virginia and G. C. TRAINING LITTLE CHILDREN

(By Mrs. V. Oma Grace Oliver)

Parents must not look down upon the child and consider his efforts, trials and sorrows petty; we must try to understand how sincerely they put all their hearts into their play and that the losses that seem so trivial to us are of great moment to them. We must learn to share all their experiences with them if we would develop the fine feelings we wish them to have at maturity. Children must not be shut off in one part of the house to remain aloof until a certain age, but ought to be a part of the family circle, sharing the joys, work and minor sorrows. I do not mean that children should be pushed before visitors, have all their meals at the family table or remain up till their elders retire, but there are times and places when it is the children's right and privilege really to be members of the family.

Even when they are very young, children can assume responsibility for certain light tasks about the house and as their age and strength increase, more and more duties should be added. The great American idea has been to remove all responsibility from the child and to give him a care-free childhood. I would not take one second of joy away from any child, but I would make it a joy for him to feel that the home is his and that he, too, helps in the making of it by performing certain duties that need to be done for the comfort of all. The child of two can pick up toys, put away dishes and silver, help set the table, dust low furniture and run many errands upstairs and down, and he loves to feel that he is "mother's helper."

He brings his daddy's slippers,
He picks up baby's toys.
He shuts the door for grandma,
Without a bit of noise.
On errands for his mother
He scampers up and down,
She vows she would not change him
For all the boys in town.

(Song for A Little Child's Day, by Emilee Poulsson and Eleanor Smith.)

Then the child can help prepare for the great festival days, birthdays, Thanksgiving, and Christmas, those joyous days which bring the family very close together, and we can let him share not only in the preparation but in the joy of the day itself and here very early he gains a presentiment of the love and spirit of service that make home, and an ideal of the home that he will some day found.

As we would let the child share the labor and the festivals, so we must permit him to share the great family secrets and home joys. Let him know that he must never divulge anything that concerns only the family and I know that a child properly trained will never tell his playmates what he is told is a family secret.

So we begin very early to train him to keep his word and the sanctity of the home. When he has been thus prepared he is ready to share with the mother and father that greatest family secret, the coming of the new baby, and this confidence will bind the little one closer than anything else to the very heart of the home.

Children are so open-hearted and ready and respond so sweetly and quickly to faith and trust that we often miss great happiness by not sharing our hopes and joys more freely with them.

If we keep the bond very close our home will become the great meeting place of all children and this love and companionship between parents and children will be like a powerful magnet whose attraction the children cannot resist. So from these beginnings the home tie will be so strengthened that we need never fear that the allurements of the world can draw our children from us, but can rest assured that they will always return to the "center of deep repose."

Please pass this article on to a friend and thus help Uncle Sam reach all the mothers of the country.

The following case is but one of many occurring daily in Mt. Sterling. It is an easy matter to verify it. You cannot ask for better proof.

S. M. Warner, Harrison Ave., Mt. Sterling, says: "I was always strong and active until kidney trouble affected me about five years ago. I was taken suddenly and my back and sides ached dreadfully. The least move sent dagger-like pains all through my body. I was confined to my bed and delirious part of the time. I was in misery. My kidneys acted irregularly and I could get no relief until I used Doan's Kidney Pills, procured from Duerson's Drug Store. They helped me right along until I was improved in every way. When I have any return of kidney trouble, Doan's Kidney Pills have never failed to relieve the aches and pains a person of my age, eighty-two years old, is subject to."

Telephone Conditions

While the property has been properly maintained, it is not the same property which the government took over on August 1, 1918. It is not as adequate for its job or as well manned as it was. That it is not, is in no way the fault of Federal control, which was eminently fair. It is due to causes for which neither the government nor the companies are to blame.

A year ago today we were at war. Labor and materials needed for both telephone operation and construction were turned to military uses. Some materials were so vital to the carrying on of the war that even the work of providing telephone facilities for the government was retarded and no part of them could be spared for commercial telephone purposes.

No less vital was the government need for those skilled to create, maintain and operate the vast inter-communication systems necessary in modern warfare and in the conduct of the vastly increased government services.

Thousands of telephone men were already at the battlefield. Thousands more were under arms, and still telephone experts and skilled operators went into the service of the government and contributory industries by the tens of thousands.

The reserves of plant and equipment were drawn upon until they were entirely used up, and the experienced staff was gradually depleted. To find others to take the places of those who had gone was difficult. To train them takes time.

During the year came victory and the armistice; and instantly the business world sprang into intense activity. The demands for telephone service passed all former records.

To replace the exhausted reserves which had been carried for just such purposes and to replace the skilled forces to meet this unprecedented emergency, there began a rush for construction, for readjustment, for high pressure repairs, for feverish extensions. All these must be continued with increasing effort.

The return of the property comes in the very midst of this race between an overpowering demand, and an upbuilding of a system whose growth was held back and whose forces were scattered by the vital needs of war.

Much progress has been made in the upbuilding of this system, but far more is still required to meet the swift growth of business; and also to give "first aid" to every other business and every other service struggling against an unprecedented demand.

The prosperity which creates this emergency in service creates also a scarcity of those desiring employment in the service.

Under such conditions telephone service generally has not been and could not be up to the pre-war standard. It is beyond human power to immediately overcome the handicap which the situation imposes.

There are no people in any public or private endeavor who are working more tirelessly or strenuously for the common good than those of the telephone companies. Service has always been given; more of it must be given and it must be improved. That improvement in some cases will take months. Eventually service must win the race with demand.

WAR IS OVER BUT RECONSTRUCTION PERIOD LOOMS

This is a mighty poor time for an American to stop being a good American.

We went into the world war with a rush when we did go, for we knew that we had a lot of time to make up. From the minute Congress passed the war declaration until the Germans at the armistice whimpered out their surrender, this country was working at the war business and that was just about all the job it had.

Americans "went the route" as the saying goes. Our soldiers fought as hard as they knew how, and that was good enough to make the Prussian Guards quit like curs at Sedan. The creature who once was the proud proud Kaiser of all the Germans took it upon himself to scoff at the quick trained American army. That was twice he had made a mistake. Once before early in the war he had sneered at a "contemptible little army" of Englishmen, but they stopped him at Ypres. And we stopped him at Belleau Wood and we broke him in the Argonne.

When we got into the war the American navy reported in English waters ready to go into action. They made the high seas and the straits too hot to hold U-boats. They helped keep the German High Seas Fleet cooped up in the Kiel Canal till the hearts of the German sailors turned to water. In the air we helped curb the Hun hospital bombers and baby killers. We got a few hundred of them and were just getting started in that highly interesting game when the Hun caved in.

When it came to raising money no one else even approached us. We set a record that will hold the admiration of the world for many years. We poured millions into the business of war. No nation in history ever approached our record. If it is ever broke we will have to break it ourselves.

That is what we have done. When we got in we got in good. There was nothing half-hearted about it. We were not counting the cost. We wanted victory and we got it.

Germany was winning that war till the Yanks got over. Europe has admitted that and history will set it down as true. The American support turned the tide. We all remember Chateau-Thierry. We will always remember it here in America as we remember Lexington and the Alamo.

We came into the game of saving the civilization of the world and we are to see it through of its finish. Certainly we do not want to fall down. We don't want to quit and spoil the record that is ours.

Now that the enemy is whipped, now that the might of America has been established by the exertion of force, not quite to the uttermost, now that the entire world recognizes the unselfish motive that caused us to take up arms, and now that the stricken world is begging us to furnish them with the supplies they need to rehabilitate themselves, now is the time for all America to take those steps to entrench herself as the world's leading industrial and commercial nation.

Vast sums of money must be had for this reconstruction task. The banks have the money, but it is needed to keep alive the industries here.

The government needs the money to maintain the big remnant of the army yet overseas, and to bring it back. It needs shipping, and must be in a position to extend credits to the exhausted nations.

And the plan to raise this money is to get it from the savings of the people, and to pay them back in five years, with interest at the rate of four per cent compounded quarterly. That is why the War Savings Campaign was formulated, and the millions that are spent for War Savings and Thrift Stamps are going to enrich the nation and the individual who in buying them serves both his country and himself.

POTATOES HAVE WARTS

The potato wart has appeared in Pennsylvania. The potato wart, unlike that to which the human family is heir, is extremely dangerous and frequently grows until it becomes as large as the potato itself. Uncle Sam wishes all Kentucky growers of the spud to be on the lookout for this disease. The town gardener and the big farmer should be on the lookout for potatoes that have warts and at once notify Mr. R. C. Faulwetter, of the Department of Agriculture, Washington, at his summer office at the Experiment Station at Lexington.

BETTER TIMES AHEAD.

With the backbone of the great railway strike apparently broken by the master mind of President Woodrow Wilson, with members of Congress, both Democratic and Republican, loudly applauding the President as he speaks on the high cost of living and expresses his confidence in the American people, it seems indeed that there are better times ahead for the American citizen. There is no question now but that the crying need of the hour is to lay partisan politics aside and put into effect legislation calculated to meet the needs of the reconstruction period. A united America is what we need today. There can be no doubt that sane, self-reliant America will take the road to progress, and regardless of the many obstacles the heights will be maintained. This is the spirit that has made the United States the great nation it is today, this is the spirit that will continue to make the United States the great nation of tomorrow and of all times. This is no time for gloom. There are issues that must be faced and problems that must be solved, and there is no doubt that the line of action will be rational. America is sound, she is looking with an eye to the future, fully realizing the foundations of the Government are strong and powerful. Experience has taught us that reconstruction is a slow progress, and we cannot expect the country to return to a pre-war basis overnight—it will take time. America is a great country, her people are a great and enterprising people, and what we need most at this hour is to face the situation squarely, with our hearts inspired with optimism. Yes, Congress should lay partisan issues aside and put into effect constructive legislation such as will redound to the good of the country as a whole. There's a brighter, a better day ahead—let's be optimistic.

$1.50 RENTAL RESOLUTION ADOPTED

The City Council at a call meeting adopted a resolution which makes legal the former phone rental of $1.50 per month. This matter was presented on Tuesday evening, the regular meeting of the council and attorneys representing the telephone company appeared at this meeting asking that no action of the council be taken, that by so doing the rental of $2.00 per month as fixed under government control, would remain in force for a period of four months and would give time for the company to give facts and figures, which would show that under existing conditions they could not operate without a loss for a less charge.

The matter was closely argued and the council refused by a majority of one to go back to the contract price, $1.50 per month rental. The following evening at a call meeting the council was again in session, reconsidered the act of the regular meeting and adopted the resolution going back to the contract price of $1.50.

It will be remembered and the records show it, that a telephone franchise was sold according to legal specifications which carried with it a contract price, that the price was an agreed one between city and the telephone company, and during the life of this franchise, from the date of its purchase until the time when taken over by the Government was a paying investment to the company operating under it, that there were no qualifications under this contract save a satisfactory service, as we understand, to the patrons of the company, and with these facts the council as representatives justly adopted the aforesaid resolution.

STATE FAIR.

The Kentucky State Fair to be in session at Louisville, Sept. 8, 9, 10, 11, 12, 13, 1919 bids to be the most interesting of all her sessions. There is offered in cash premiums $110,000, there is a Saddle Horse Stake of $10,000, a Beef Cattle Show of $20,000, a fat and feeding Cattle Show of $20,000, Dairy Cattle of $6,000, Swine Show of $5,000, etc.

Our people we are sure will show their appreciation of such developing interests as are induced by the State Fair Association by becoming liberal patrons. A large attendance can be depended on from Central and Eastern Kentucky.

A NEW PROJECT.

The project now assuming form to organize a company and give a supplementary fair in the early fall and to have connected with it trotting and pacing and running races appears to us as a stimulant to the tillers of the soil, the breeders of stock and those who develop the speed of the equine.

A fair of this kind including a floral hall exhibit of extended proportions, would most certainly be helpful to all business interests.

CAPITAL AND LABOR

High wages alone will not insure that men will stick to their jobs and make their effort productive in a maximum degree. There must be in addition to good wages, a real understanding, a realization of mutual interest, between the employer and the employee, whether this be applied to factory, store or farm.

This fact has been recognized by the Associated Advertising Clubs of the World, with the result that the program for the world convention of advertising, which will be held in New Orleans, Sept. 21 to 25, will have for its central theme the promotion of advertising as an instrument of first importance in bringing about just such an understanding between capital and labor as will insure maximum production, with its resulting prosperity.

In connection with this announcement by officers of the advertising clubs today, it was announced that Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor, had accepted a place on the convention program, and that a man equally representative of capital, would present the other side of the story.

It is the expectation that in this manner, there can be formulated some fundamentals upon which capital and labor can agree, in this movement for greater production with its resulting prosperity.

Following these addresses, a message will be framed, to go out to employers and employees, not attempting to enforce the details of any arrangement for an understanding, but setting forth the general principles, and advocating the employment of advertising as the means for making such element in the world of industry better understood the other.

But the world convention of advertising in New Orleans will go further than this. It will recognize the fact that increased production and continued prosperity will depend upon finding markets for the goods thus produced, and again will truthful advertising step into the discussion. These skilled in creating markets hold that markets are in the minds of people and that through advertising, it is possible to create demand, or markets.

Hand in hand with the greater production needed to insure high wages and continued purchasing power, therefore, advertising must be used to create the markets to absorb the goods.

In addition to discussions of these all important subjects at the advertising convention, there will also be an exhibit of advertising, at which will be shown complete advertising campaigns, both of the kind that have been used to insure an understanding between employer and employee, and of a market-creating character.

To Polish Shoes.

The Englishman's shoes, or "boots," are the best looking seen on the feet of any race. The reason for this is that the Englishman puts trees in his shoes, which are polished with the leather thus smoothed out. The softening polish, if applied while the shoe is on the foot, as is usual in America, causes the leather into the shape of the foot and the shoe loses its smooth effect. Trees, which add to the long life of shoes, are inexpensive and should be put in the shoes every night. If you polish your own shoes, try polishing them when on trees. You will be pleased with the result.

SEPTEMBER 1ST.

Marks the dawn of a new era in the motion picture industry, for on this date the different producing companies announce a complete change in their distributing policies that it is hoped will prove to put this country's greatest amusement on a commercial basis that has never heretofore been possible owing to the many, many unsuccessful forms that the individual film exchanges have tried and have been proven a failure. Now with practically all of the leading producers announcing the same form of distributing the public in general should share in this new policies.

On Sept. 1st there will be no more what has been commonly called regular program pictures. Each picture that the exhibitor offers to his patrons will be purchased on the basis of cost of production and not one price for both the good and poor ones as of formerly which in turn the exhibitor has offered at one general admission price. As these pictures will be paid for relative to cost of producing each exhibitor will have to charge his patrons at the same prorata. No better proof seemed needed to prove the justness of this new policy than to compare this with other forms of amusements, for instance if a certain theatre announces the coming of a road attraction for an early showing and its title appeals to you, the first question that arises is as to its size or how many people are in it, how much scenery do they carry, whose show is it and is it a regular recognized attraction and one that can be recommended, and last what are the prices to be, because the last road show played this same theatre at certain prices you do not give the matter a thought that the one coming will charge the same for you are in the habit of paying for these travelling shows on a basis of what they have or are expected to have to offer you. Now beginning on the above mentioned date the motion picture is to be put on the same basis.

As each exhibitor will have to pay for each individual picture as above mentioned there seems to be no alternative if he is to continue in business but what he will at that time find himself in the same position as other merchants in commercial lines. That is he must base the cost of his admission to his patrons as his brother merchants do. The writer well realizes that with every thing pertaining to the cost of our every day life soaring to prices formerly unknown he will be obliged to charge more than formerly for your admission to the Tabb. This may seem uncalled for but this change is absolutely necessary if it is to continue under present management. If you remember when the Tabb was under the former one at the time of my taking possession you were paying at that time 20c for most of the good pictures such as Fairbanks, Marguerite Clarke, Mary Pickford, Wm. S. Hart and many others equally as good. Since then nearly every thing has advanced with us from one to three hundred percent in cost of operating yet we have always offered these same stars and the same high class of service for less money.

We can still offer you pictures at present prices for the coming season but not of the same class as at present. Doubting if cheap service will be satisfactory but yet wishing to know how the majority of the patrons of the Tabb feel in regard to the inevitable change in its policy we have decided to offer you the following for the month of Sept. On each Saturday we will submit to you a program for the following week and the admission price to each days program will be stated to enable you to be advised in full just what we have to offer and the price to be charged.

Since taking over the Tabb Theatre I have endeavored to the best of my ability with some fifteen years of experience in the theatrical business to give you the very best for the price of admission charged in any and all of the attractions that I have booked. I have always endeavored to be frank and honest in all of my advertising, in soliciting your patronage, and when I now state that the present policy of the Tabb is not further possible, I hope you will accept such statement at its face value. During the last three months the daily policy of the Tabb has been continued for the benefit of the public only and not the management for with so many other counter attractions during this time and with the unusual heavy slump in our attendance even though we did not resort to the common practice of many exhibitors of offering cheap pictures or the closing of one or more days a week until such times as the business warranted a daily policy again.

On Sept. 20th the above new policy will have been in force long enough to at that time announce the one for the coming year.

Very Truly,

WM. B. SMALL.

Money in circulation actually has declined since the period set in, Mr. Harding said. The total on December 1, 1917, was $5,129,985,000, a per capita of $48.13, which was reduced to $47.96, 890,000 and $45.16 at the first of this month. The figure April 1, 1917, were $4,100,9 and $37.88.

In considering the increase in circulation, the committee was there should be considered the factors demanding more currency, as the enlargement of pay rolls to the number of workers and wages paid, the effect on prices by individuals, the increased amounts locked up by highly workmen ignorant of banking methods, money carried out of the country by aliens returning to Europe and prosperity in the Philippines, Hawaii, Cuba and certain cities in New York.

Buick Seven-Passenger Touring Car

THE BUICK Model-K-Six-49 is a big, roomy, open car for seven persons, with a range of service in keeping with its powerful Valve-in-Head motor. The long wheelbase, the extra size tonneau, the completeness of all details making for comfort and convenience give it an air of unlimited capacity that is amply borne out by its continued and consistent performance.

This body is divided by a double cowl, into which the folding seats disappear when not in service. These extra seats are so arranged as to give liberal space to all occupants in the tonneau, thereby avoiding any possible crowding.

The slanting windshield braces form the front support for the high-grade top, which is also equipped with well-made side curtains that swing open with the doors.

FAKERS WHO POSE

AS HOUSEHOLDERS

Furs, diamonds, phonographs and many other articles, says a bulletin from the Associated Advertising Clubs of the World, are being sold, by mail or from private houses, by dealers in such articles who pose as private householders forced to dispose of the goods.

"In almost every instance," says the bulletin from the Association,

"gross misrepresentations are made as to the value of the articles offered. It is the custom of such advertisers in the phonograph line, for example, to say that the phonograph is 'the $250 size' or is 'like the regular $200 instrument.'"

"In one recent case," the bulletin continues, "a fur dealer in Buffalo was offering furs in an advertisement signed by his wife, in which he said he would sell for $35, furs worth $85. The statement of value was untrue. They might have been worth $35, but were not worth $85."

The bulletin says the advertising association, which exists for the purpose of making all advertising absolutely truthful, has usually only needed to call the attention of newspapers to the fraudulent character of such advertisements to get them to decline to sell advertising space to such people. In the meantime, the bulletin suggests, the public should beware and should ascertain whether the seller is in fact a worthy householder or is a merchant.

"The best way to supply our needs is through the usual sources—through the stores of the community," the bulletin adds. "The local storekeeper stands behind the goods he sells, and if anything should go wrong, he is right on the job to make good."

FROM CHERRY-BLOSSOM LAND The Japanese Give Good Example

It is a proverb of Cherry Blossom Land that beauty of face and figure depend on womanly health.

What is it that makes our American women often pale, sallow-faced, with dark circles under the eyes, and very often old at forty-five when they should be in their prime?

Women suffer in girlhood from back-ache, spine-ache and headaches, followed by irregularities and as a result diseases of the womanly organs are more common than any one but a physician in active practice could suppose.

After long experience in the treatment of women's diseases, Dr. Pierce evolved a vegetable tonic and corrective which he called Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. This is a purely vegetable preparation, without a particle of alcohol contained in it.

When a woman complains of backache, dizziness or pain—when everything looks black before her eyes—a dragging feeling, or bearing-down, with nervousness, she should turn to this "temperance" herbal tonic. It can be obtained in almost every drug store in the land and the ingredients are printed in plain English on the wrapper. Put up in tablets or liquid. Dr. Pierce, of Invalids' Hotel, Buffalo, N. Y., will send a trial size of the tablets for ten cents.

BUREAU FOR PROTECTION OF AMERICAN COMMERCE

Everybody is interested in the development of export trade. The corner grocer who never expects to sell a nickel's worth of goods in China is interested. The preacher, the lawyer, the doctor, in fact, every person in every profession or business, is interested, because all will profit.

When a dollar comes to the United States from another country, it flows into commerce and helps everybody.

But, says a statement just issued by the Associated Advertising Clubs of the World, immediate action must be taken for the protection of trade across the seas. This Association is organizing a bureau for the protection of the reputation of American firms and American goods in other countries, the chief business of which will be to stamp fraud out of the advertising of American firms, which try to "put something over" in foreign fields.

"Experience has shown," says Merle Sidener, chairman of the National Vigilance Committee of the advertising clubs, "that the man in a foreign country who buys our goods does not have even as good a chance to discriminate as people in this country, for, without knowledge of the standing of the firms, one advertisement looks very much like another."

WORK AND SAVE REMEDY FOR HIGH PRICES

"To work and to save" is the remedy for the increasing cost of living pointed out by the Federal Reserve Board.

In reply to an inquiry from the Senate Banking Committee, asking if it was advisable to attempt contraction of currency by legislation in the hope of reducing prices, Governor Harding wrote Chairman McLean that the growth in the volume of circulating notes was the effect and not the cause of advancing wages and prices and that the war period of finance would not be over until government obligations, now carried by the banks, were absorbed through the actual savings of the people.

Strong censure of strikes and extravagance was implied in Mr. Harding's letter, which did not, however, undertake to blame any one section of the population, but referred to the nation as a whole, especially to the relaxation of economics practiced during the war and the purchase now of non-essential articles by persons enjoying large incomes for the first time.

"The Federal Reserve Board believes that any currency legislation at this time is unnecessary and undesirable," Mr. Harding wrote, "and would suggest that whether viewed from an economic or financial standpoint, the remedy for the present situation is the same, namely, to work and to save; to work regularly and efficiently, in order to produce and distribute the largest possible volume of commodities; and to exercise reasonable economies in order that money, goods and services may be devoted primarily to the liquidation of debt and to the satisfaction of the demand for necessities, rather than to indulge in extravagances or the gratification of a desire for luxuries."

"The war is over—in a military sense—and while the bills have been settled by loans to the government, these obligations, so far as they are carried by the banks, must be absorbed before the war chapter of the financial history of the country can be closed."

Money in circulation actually has shown a decline since the post-war period set in, Mr. Harding said. The total on December 1, 1918, was $5,129,985,000, a per capita circulation of $48.13, which was reduced to $47,966,890,000 and $45.16 on the first of this month. The figures on April 1, 1917, were $4,100,976,000 and $37.88.

In considering the increased circulation, the committee was told, there should be considered the factors demanding more currency, such as the enlargement of pay rolls as to the number of workers and the wages paid, the effect on property on the amount of money carried by individuals, the increased amounts locked up by highly paid workmen ignorant of banking methods, money carried out of the country by aliens returning to Europe, and prosperity in the Philippines, Hawaii, Cuba and certain Central American countries where United States money circulates freely. Foreign circulation of United States currency was estimated at $150,000,000.

PRICE CHECK ORDERED

Attorney General Palmer has started out to ascertain how much of the high cost of living is due to excessive profits by retailers.

In a telegram to all state food administrators who worked with Administrator Hoover during the war he Attorney General requested the appointment of a fair price committee in each county to investigate what is being charged for retail necessities and if in excess of what the committee considers just, to publish a list of fair prices for the guidance of the public.

This is the "extra legal" means of teaching profiteering which Mr. Palmer recently indicted was under consideration. He has frankly admitted from the start that there was no means to prosecute directly a man guilty of extortion in prices. Retailers who are gouging the ultimate consumer will have to be disciplined by public sentiment, which officials have no doubt is sufficiently alert to the situation now to act vigorously in clear-cut cases. Hoarders, on the other hand, can be reached through the war-time food laws or the Fisherman Act, and Mr. Palmer requested the State Food Administrators to transmit to him any evidence of hoarding or other violations of the law which they might encounter in their work, with the promise that the government's law enforcement machinery would act promptly.

"There is a pressing necessity for the restoration of normal conditions," Mr. Palmer's telegram said, "requesting the men who did such effective work during the war to take up the burden again. They were asked to serve without compensation, the Attorney General believing that the public service to be performed now is as important as when the country was engaged in hostilities, and that no patriotic citizen would refuse the call to duty."

THE AUGUST BORN 1919 BOY IS OFFERED SPLENDID OPPORTUNITY

"If you see an Englishman running down the street toward the telegraph office, ten to one, there is a new born son at his house, and this father is hurrying to the telegraph office to make a reservation for him fifteen years hence at Eaton or Rugby." At least this is the way a clever writer, who is describing what these schools mean to the Englishman, explains that particular Englishman.

And why not? There is no event that means more to a man than the birth of his son and certainly nothing that is going to mean more to the son than the training he will receive. A reservation in a picked school is not necessary to guarantee this training to the American boy but financial security is needed.

How many of the twelve million to be who open their eyes on America every year can count on this training? How many of them will be numbered in the new aristocracy of the men who know, the empire builders of 1940? These builders will be a class of trained men, and the class which the citizens of tomorrow will enter depends largely on the fathers of today.

NATION-WIDE DRIVE TO IMPROVE ALL LIVE STOCK

"Better Sires—Better Stock."

This is the slogan of a national better live-stock crusade, to get actively in motion October 1, that is announced by the United States Department of Agriculture, working in co-operation with the State agricultural colleges and other agencies interested in live-stock improvement. The campaign looks forward to the future food needs of this country's increasing population and results from long and careful observation of the live-stock industry in this country, and was planned after extensive consultation with specialists and breeders. The plan is to hasten the replacement of the multitude of scrub domestic animals in the United States with pure-bred or high-grade stock, and also to improve the quality of pure breeds themselves. The goal in view is greater efficiency in production.

The campaign will be the first organized crusade in a large country to improve all live stock simultaneously. It will interfere in no way with any work in live-stock improvement now being conducted, but makes all the work more definite and effective by providing official recognition for progressive breeders.

The campaign will be supervised from the Department of Agriculture in Washington, and in each State by the State agricultural college. County agents and other field workers of the Department of Agriculture and of the State colleges will handle the campaign locally. Every live-stock owner actively operating and keeping and using none but pure-bred sires of good quality will be given an emblem as an official recognition of meritorious effort.

things for his little son will begin now to invest a part of this years prosperity in the future of the boy. The Government has made this investment particularly easy by placing within reach of all short term securities bearing a high rate of interest. Now that the issue of War Savings Stamps and Savings Securities has been made permanent, the college course may be insured by a savings plan running through several years.

A simple plan for a father who has had a prosperous year calls for the purchase of two one-thousand dollar Treasury Savings Certificates for the August baby. This means an investment of only $1,676 at that date and will yield $2,000, January, 1919. This sum reinvested will yield $3,000 when the boy is fifteen. The same result may be worked out gradually by a plan that provides for the purchase of one War Savings Stamp a week or fifty a year during the next ten years.

Both of these plans provide liberal investments for the boy's future. Much smaller investments would help him towards the goal. Ten Savings Stamps a year for the fifteen years would mean $1,000 to him. Any young American with fighting blood in him would have a try at college with that sum in hand.

Today is the time to plan for the future of the baby boy. Will your son enter the class of empire builders of 1940? Government securities offer you a chance to provide him with the requisite college credits.

DISSOLVES PARTNERSHIP

Dr. W. B. Robinson and Dr. D. L. Smathers who have been in business as Robinson and Smathers have dissolved partnership. Dr. Robinson will continue in business but Dr. Smathers plans have not yet been made known. The dissolution was made August first.

EXPRESS CHARGES EQUAL TOTAL VALUE OF GOODS

Investigations which have recently been made by the Associated Advertising Clubs of the World, of New York, to determine the fairness of advertisements published by so-called mail order grocery houses, have developed some interesting facts with relation to the "saving" which the buyer is supposed to enjoy.

A Los Angeles man answered such an advertisement in a local newspaper and ordered $1.99 worth of goods. Express charges were $1.85, and when he submitted the merchandise to a Los Angeles grocer, the latter offered to duplicate the order out of regular stock at $1.85.

These mail order houses, say officers of the advertising association, should not be confused with legitimate mail order houses which operate upon the principle of winning friends and building permanent trade. Indications are, say association officials, that "once over" is as much as these houses can expect. Certainly, a man would be a fool to pay $3.84 (the cost including the expense of sending the order) for what he could get around the corner for $1.85.

Such offers are usually made in connection with prices that are cut on a few standard articles. To obtain these, the purchaser must take an assortment of other articles which are not standard.

Every body should know how to live easy in a trunk. See Hartman wardrobes for men and women. The Walsh Co., sole agents.

SCHOOL ATTENDANCE

The need of some method of enforcing school attendance after the Kentucky Illiteracy Commission goes out in July 1920 has been voiced by the County Superintendents throughout the state in letters to Mrs. Cora Wilson Stewart, Chairman of the Kentucky Illiteracy Commission.

County Illiteracy Agents, who are sent out to direct moonlight school work, have been acting as attendance officers in the counties to which they are assigned but as they have not police powers their work consists in the main of urging parents to send their children to school. However, even with these more or less limited powers they have been able greatly to increase day school attendance and their work has shown what can be accomplished by compulsory attendance officers, according to Mrs. Stewart.

City schools long have had attendance officers to keep the children in school and rural schools also must have similar officers if the compulsory school law is to be made effective, said Mrs. Stewart. New Jersey and Maryland and most all progressive states already have attendance officers and these states are shown far in the lead in daily attendance.

"No compulsory attendance law has ever been enforced without an attendance officer and it is high time that Kentucky should take her place along with other states where compulsory attendance is being enforced," said Mrs. Stewart.

VAST SUPPLIES WILL BE SOLD

In the face of growing unrest over the high cost of living, as indicated by the spreading strike of railroad workers, many government agencies have moved in efforts to effect a return to normal price levels.

Immediate sale of all surplus food-stuffs purchased for the Army, instead of only canned goods, was ordered by the War Department. Millions of pounds of meat, beans, pumpkin, squash and other commodities were offered to the public Monday, August 18, through the parcels post system at prices materially lower than those now prevailing in the market. Purchasers will have to pay postage charges from the place of storage.

Director General Hines, Commissioner Colver and Assistant Secretary Leffingwell, appointed by the conference assembled by Attorney General Palmer to recommend steps to reduce living costs are engaged in an exchange of memorandum bearing on the problem. The impression went out that the committee had agreed that steps could be taken by Congress which would alleviate the situation at once, but it was said at Mr. Hines' office that nothing final had been decided upon. The committee was instructed particularly to deal with profiteering and to suggest how law enforcement agencies should proceed to bring to justice men guilty of extortion through unreasonable prices.

If any recommendation is made to Congress it is believed most likely that it will deal with sale of the wheat crop at market prices and the absorption by the government of the loss between that price and the 2.26 guaranteed the farmer.

New York officials have indicated that this is the most practicable step which would be taken and one most likely to have an immediate effect.

Congress continued to discuss the living question and at the White House President Wilson was said to be receiving full reports on all phases of it. The Senate adopted a resolution asking the banking committee whether reduction of the currency inflation would help the situation. In the House any attempt to recess for two weeks was blocked by Representative Igoe, Democrat, of Missouri, because his resolution to have the federal trade commission investigate the price of shoes was not acted upon. The new demands of railway employees for more wages to meet the high cost of living drew fire from Representative Blanton, Democrat, of Texas, who said the railroad men were acting like "highwaymen" in attempting to obtain "another unfair billion dollar" raise.

Introduction in the House of government ownership railroads bill with the employees participating in the control and profits of the roads was made the occasion of a statement by leaders of the four brotherhoods that the high cost of living demanded the operation of the country's most important industry "for service rather than for profit." The statement declared that wage earners could never hope to gain a permanent victory in the economic strife under present conditions because of the constantly growing cycle of prices based on wages and declared it was not money, but value which really counted. Any basic change, it was argued, must commence with the railroads, the fundamental industry on which all others are dependent.

VISIT GROWERS WEEKLY

An effort is being made by the Experiment Station to learn just what it costs to grow a crop of tobacco. This season a specially trained man is visiting each week about 80 farmers who are growing a crop of Burley in Fayette and Scott counties. Both the expert and each grower are keeping books on the cost of the crop. Another man is doing the same work in Christian county with about 70 farmers growing dark tobacco. By the end of the present season these men will have data which will be of tremendous value to growers of the weed in Kentucky.

WHAT IS WORSHIP?

What is Worship? To Lift up the heart,
Bow down, do service, bend the knee,
Aspire and ask to not live apart,
Ne'er forgetting how blest be, He.
What is Worship? Give thanks, offer prayers,
Be devout, lead the choir, bow down,
Look askance at, but pray for liars,
Aid all good things coming around.
What is Worship? In church sit up close,
Listen to all the preacher may say,
If you are sick swallow the dose
And get well. Take it each Sunday.
To worship. Be liberal, give alms,
Glory, supplicate and sing,
Don't squeeze rhino too tight in your palms,
Be there all times—do the right thing.
To Worship—You should bow, be clever,
Reverent, solemn, pure and clean,
Deny yourself, be ready ever
To shadow the Little Nazarine.
McKEE.
This (?) asked at Sunday School.
